HOTEL COMPANY CANAL INSPECTED IS INDICTED BY HARDING

Charged Norval Boosted Rates Elks Convention Week Passes Thru Waterway to Study Its Practical Working

CASES SET FOR HEARING ON PACIFIC COAST TONIGHT

Mooney Trial on Embezzlement Charge on December 3 Will be Guest of Governor Harding at Dinner

CRISTOBAL Canal Zone.—(By Associated Press)—Senator Warren G. Harding, United States President-elect, gave up golf and motoring Wednesday to make a personal study of the practical working of the Panama canal. He left here at 8:30 o'clock on a government motor car and looked forward to a leisurely journey thru the waterway.

His trip was more than a sight-seeing expedition. Stops were arranged at Gatun lock and at other points to permit close inspection of problems of canal maintenance and management. The trip was one of the big reasons for Mr. Harding's trip to the canal zone.

Mr. Harding has taken a keen interest in the future of the canal, and is known to believe it to be one of the outstanding national assets as regards foreign commerce. During the debate in congress relative to the canal, the problem of tolls for American ships received his particular attention. His strong conviction for free passage for American ships having been expressed many times, both in congress and in his speeches during the last campaign.

GUEST AT DINNER

Col. Charles Harding, governor of the canal zone, accompanied him on the trip and Wednesday night will be his host at a dinner at the Pacific terminal of the canal.

The dinner will be followed by a public reception, and the party will remain in the Pacific coast until Friday. Mr. Harding will attend a dinner given by President Porras at Panama at the palace Thursday night.

The steamer Perseus was welcomed into the harbor by a swarm of army planes and several warships, which met her three miles out and conveyed her to her dock. A large crowd cheered the president-elect and his wife, and a formal greeting was extended by Governor Harding, Brigadier General Kennedy and Rear Admiral Johnson, commanders, respectively, of military and naval forces in the canal zone.

HOGS TAKE DROP, MEAT STILL UP

SECRETARY GONE YEAR, SEIZED

Employee of "Vanished Millionaire" Small Arrested

SILENT AS TO HIS EMPLOYER

Also Refuses to Talk of Missing Bonds

PORTLAND, Ore.—(By United Press)—John Doughty, former secretary of the "Vanished Millionaire," Ambrose Small, of Toronto, Canada, maintained silence Wednesday as to what had become of Small and of $100,000 in bonds which disappeared with him.

Doughty, who dropped out of sight in December, 1919, and has been sought by Small and the $100,000, was apprehended Tuesday, at Oreg. City, and brought to Portland Tuesday night by Detective Austin Mitchell, of Toronto.

Mitchell said he would start for Toronto Wednesday with his prisoner, with whom he appeared to be on friendly terms. He said he used to know Doughty quite well in Toronto. With reference to a report that Doughty confessed with having stolen the bonds, Mitchell said:

"That is all right."

"When Doughty was asked what his defense would be, he replied dramatically:

"It is in the lap of God."

"Don't pay attention to that," interposed Mitchell. "Jack got that line from some play while he was in the theatrical game up home."

Mitchell spent Tuesday night with Doughty at a hotel here. Asked why he did not put his prisoner in jail, Mitchell replied that he did not think it necessary.

PARTICULARS REFUSED

Discussing the missing bonds, Mitchell said that Doughty knew where they were—some place in Toronto. He refused, however, to give any particulars.

So far, there is no trace of Small for whom a search has been in progress on two continents ever since his disappearance nearly a year ago.

Doughty was quoted as saying he had seen Small in a theatre in Toronto the night of his disappearance, but he did not know what had become of him.

SMALL'S WIFE TALKS

COLLEGE POINT, N. Y.—(By United Press)—John Doughty, arrested at Portland, Ore., holds the key to the "mysterious disappearance" of Ambrose Small, the "vanished millionaire," of Toronto, Canada, in the belief Wednesday of Mrs. Small, who disappeared at the same time as Small, had been arrested.

Mrs. Small declared she felt renewed hope that her husband would be found, or that she would at least learn his fate.

"I still have a belief that Mr. Small is alive," she said, "but I am afraid that if he is alive, he is out of my mind. We got so many letters from cranks and others that we couldn't believe them. Still so many of them spoke of his being mentally unbalanced. I'm afraid there's something to it."

Mrs. Small will leave New York Wednesday or Wednesday night for Toronto where Doughty is to be taken. She did not know whether she would confront the former private secretary or not.

The thing she most feared Wednesday was that Doughty, described as a powerful man, might manage to escape from Detective Austin Mitchell, who is taking him to Toronto.

"Doughty is the sole hope for an explanation of Mr. Small's disappearance," she said. "We have waited for his arrest on a kidnapping and a larceny charge."

The chief of police at Oregon City, where Doughty was arrested, probably will receive $5,000 reward. This amount was offered by Mrs. Small for Doughty's arrest. Detective Mitchell will determine where the reward goes.

Decrease to Lowest Price In Four Years Not Reflected In Retail Markets In Lima, Survey Today Indicates

Lowering of Price Should Follow, Official of Big Packing Company Declares In Explaining Situation

Hog prices have hit the lowest point in four years, the average quotation in Chicago Wednesday being about $9.90 or $10. This big decrease in prices has not been reflected in the price of dressed meats in Lima, figures collected Wednesday show.

There is little change in the prices of meats today and a year ago in the retail markets. The wholesale price is somewhat lower but the price of livestock is far lower than a year ago.

Leslie O'Rear of the research department of Swift & Co., Chicago, declared in a statement Wednesday that retail prices should already have started downward because of the lower trend of wholesale prices in the last two months.

RETAIL PRICES SHOULD START DOWN, DECLARES OFFICIAL OF SWIFT & CO.

"Our prices began dropping when expert business fell off, thus causing less demand," O'Rear said. "The wholesale price came from $23 to $15 on the strength of this. Retail prices now should average five cents lower than two months ago."

"Lately farmers have been holding off shipments because of the election and bumper crops. They began dumping their cattle and hogs on the market last week—the big break was Thursday when the decline was from $1 to $1.60 on hogs. It developed into a 'selling panic.'"

Figures on retail meats in Lima Wednesday show that the price decrease has not kept pace with the decline in merchandise, altho the livestock market has shown a marked drop, especially in hogs.

Following are prices today and a year ago, both wholesale and retail, the two figures indicating the range as to quality:

	WHOLESALE	RETAIL
	1919	1920
Pork loin	30-32	26-30

Smoked ham	34-36	30-34
Lard	30-32	20-23
Dried beef (whole)	14-20	12-1-2 18-1-2

Mr. Ford's statement was made. It was announced to correct what he said was an erroneous report of testimony by S. S. Margus, director of the Ford Educational department before Judge Aischuler, in Chicago, Tuesday to the effect that the recent reductions in the price of Ford cars had resulted in the bonus to employees being practically cut off. The statement said that six thousand men of the Detroit force had quit work within the last 90 days was correct, it was said at the executive offices of the company here, but the men had left voluntarily.

COURT IS RAIDED

Negro Taken by Mississippi Mob and Lynched

TYLER TOWN, Miss.—(By Associated Press).—No arrest has been made here so far in connection with the lynching Tuesday of Harry Jacobs, negro, who was taken from the court room after members of a mob had been refused admission.

Tyler town was quiet Wednesday. The body of Jacobs, hanged to a tree after being dragged thru the streets from the axle of an automobile, was cut down and buried. The negro lynched was a brother of B. F. Jacobs, lynched two weeks ago. The brothers were said to have confessed to attacks on white women.

SHOT BY ACCIDENT

Accused Woman, in Hamon Case, Still Missing

ARDMORE, Okla.—(By United Press).—Jude L. Hamon, Republican national committeeman who, authorities allege, was shot by Mrs. Clara Smith Hamon, was practically out of danger Wednesday, physicians reported.

Mrs. Hamon was not located until the shooting. County Attorney Russell Brown, who issued the warrant, charging the woman with shooting the millionaire oil man and politician, has refused to reveal the evidence on which he based his charge, or the information on which he filed charges of a statutory offense against Hamon and the woman.

Belief grew here Wednesday that Mrs. Hamon would not be brought to trial, as long as Hamon holds to his statement that the shooting was accidental.

Mrs. Hamon, accompanied by her two children, was expected to arrive here Wednesday to take care of the wounded man.

Friends of Hamon Wednesday held that the claim of the "woman story" was due to political enemies and declared the shooting was accidental.

JEALOUSY SEEN IN PEIRCE'S DEATH

Robbery Theory in Manufacturer's Killing Abandoned

ARRESTS EXPECTED TODAY

Suspected Man and Woman Traced to West Virginia

PHILADELPHIA — (By Associated Press) — The man and woman, wanted in connection with the killing of Henry T. Peirce, the manufacturer's agent who was found beaten to death in the rear of his office here Monday, were expected by the local police to be taken into custody Wednesday. Detectives left Tuesday midnight for Wheeling, West Virginia, where a motor car bearing the same license number and answering the description of Peirce's machine in which they believe his slayers fled, was left at a garage for repairs.

Although the occupants of the car, two men and a woman, have disappeared, local officers said one of the men and the woman were well known and that they felt sure they would soon be arrested.

The police said they were confident that the driver of the car was Peirce's slayer, and that with his arrest the mystery virtually would be solved. They announced that late developments had caused them to abandon the robbery theory and that jealousy probably was the motive for the killing.

Investigation, it was stated, revealed that the man being sought is well known in sporting circles and was himself a former amateur boxer of New Jersey. His female companion was said also to be an acquaintance of Peirce. There were seen to alight from Peirce's automobile and enter his office late Saturday night, the last time he was seen alive.

WHEELING, W. Va. — (By Associated Press) — Police authorities here Wednesday morning made more positive the identification of the automobile of Henry T. Peirce, manufacturer's agent, found beaten to death in the rear of his office at Philadelphia Monday, and whose car had been left at a Wheeling garage.

Under the cushion of the driver's seat, an envelope addressed to Mr. Henry T. Peirce, Fort Washington, Pa., was found containing a check for $22.60 worth of merchandise rendered by the William H. Moon Company of Morrisville, Pa. The statement was dated July 1920.

PLEASURE: NOT CRIME TO SIP HOME BREW

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — Does drinking "home brew" at home constitute a disturbance of the peace? It does not.

At least that's the law as interpreted by Judge John M. Kennedy, of the North Municipal Court.

Five women and six men arrested recently at the home of Mrs. Mary Gedosky, No. 320 Wynnan avenue, faced Judge Kennedy on a charge of disturbing the peace. When the judge learned that they were arrested for sipping glasses of "home talent" stuff he promptly discharged them.

TIME'S CHANGES HIT BOOTBLACKS AND MESSENGER BOYS

Where are the bootblacks and messenger boys of yesterday? What has become of those heroes of that famous author of boys' books, Horatio Alger?

To answer these questions, one needs only to scan the list of Alger books and the reply is "Tom, the Bootblack" and "The Messenger Boy" have "Risen From the Ranks."

Horatio Alger, Ragged Dick, Tony the Tramp and the rest of the old favorites would turn over in their graves if some accommodating spook would take to them pictures of Lima's bootblacks and messenger boys of 1920.

What would Ragged Dick who used to carry his shining parlor in a small box, hanging from his shoulder, say if he could see some of Lima's modern shining palaces with their marble thrones, upholstered leather cushions and their shining brass trimmings?

Imagine his consternation at the sight of a grown man massaging a pair of cordovans with a dozen different kinds of dirt removers, cream and polishes.

If he survived the foregoing he would be certain to tear madly back to the spook realm at the spectacle of a sextet of colored shiners, dancing around, welding brushes and rags in such a manner it sounded like some sort of jazz music. The price of a shine of course, has kept step with progress.

But the advance of the telegraph boys seems even more striking. True, some of them pound the sidewalk just like the immortal "Tom," but these are in the minority. Nowadays they "wing" about the streets on high priced bicycles.

Some store messengers even have a motor attachment for their bikes. Surely, it would break Horatio's heart if he could come back and see how "Tom," "Dick," and the rest of the boys have changed.

Humphreys, owner of the well, flying from Denver in an airplane, announced that if the derrick could be repaired the well will be drilled deeper to see just what it will do.

If the well is "proven" Mexia sees itself as the Breckinridge of East Texas.

AMERICANS USED "WOODEN GUNS"

Artillery Chief Tells of Conditions at War's Opening

WASHINGTON — (By Associated Press) — That artillery troops for the American army in the world war were forced to drill with "improvised wooden guns, rope harness and other expedients" because of lack of equipment, is officially revealed Wednesday in the annual report of Major William J. Snow, chief of field artillery, to Secretary Baker.

Large quantities of guns, howitzers, ammunition and other artillery matter, are on hand, left over from the war, the report said, "and the country thus, for the first time in half a century, has on hand sufficient stocks of artillery to equip a large size army. Should war unexpectedly break out within the next few years, we would be spared the spectacle of artillery drilling with improvised wooden guns, rope harness and other expedients, which characterized the first year of the present war."

Demobilization difficulties made it almost impossible to carry on regular peace-time training of the artillery during the year, General Snow reported, but he said an effort was made to keep two regiments trained and recruited up to strength for possible border duty.

THOUSANDS OF MOTORISTS ENJOY DENVER'S FREE PARK

DENVER — Many improvements are planned for Overland Park, Denver's great tourist "outdoor hotel" for the 1921 season.

Enlargement of the camp area will be the first task undertaken by Denver park officials, as a result of the record-breaking number of motor visitors that enjoyed the privileges of the city's free camping grounds during the past summer.

Overland Park is located on the outskirts of Denver, and the city furnishes every accommodation and facility for the comfort of tourists who may pitch their camps in the park and make it a headquarters while taking trips into the surrounding mountains. Thousands of cross-country auto tourists avail themselves of the camp accommodations also.

Nearly 30,000 persons representing Canada, District of Columbia, and every state in the Union except Delaware, camped at Overland Park between May 1 and October 20 this year, according to statistics compiled by city officials. The total number of automobiles registered was 7,874; the actual number of passengers 28,910, an increase over 1919 of 41 per cent and 55 per cent respectively.

California led the Far Western states, with 236 cars and 730 passengers. Right cars with nineteen passengers registered from Canada.

Elmer D. Webb, J. I. Motter and A. W. Ballinger were appointed appraisers.

OIL SHOOT 50 FEET, TOWN WILD

MEXIA, TEX. — (By United Press)

Oil, the modern aladdin, had rubbed Mexia, Wednesday.

Mexia was just an east Texas town of 4,000 persons who evinced little more than mild curiosity as a "wild cat" drilling outfit laboriously drove its bit into a hillside two and a half miles to the westward.

Mexia came to life with a jerk when a coalless, hatless, blue-shirted "roughneck" from the drilling outfit ran down Main-st. and into a drug store, grabbed a telephone, called a number and yelled into the transmitter:

"Oil! We got it!"

Out on the hillside odoriferous liquid shot 50 feet in the air with a force that warped the derrick. The population of Mexia, Wednesday, had jumped 2,000. Leases were as high as $1,000 an acre and going up $100 a jump. Rooms were unobtainable at hotels—one hotel equipping its hallways with narrow mattresses and blankets and renting them for $10 a flop—and if you ask for a bed, the hotel clerk tries to sell you a lease first.

Only 15 miles from the well, a Main-st. riot of Jack London cosmopolitanism with booted and mackinawed "roughnecks" elbowing with fur-coated and diamond-studded oil operators.

A farmer drove into town with a load of cotton. He left it standing in the street and started into the oil business.

Mexia paused somewhat Wednesday for a "show down." With the well reported 1,500 feet in oil and the bit eight feet in the Woodbine sand, E. A. COMPLAINT MADE ABOUT CAR TICKETS

Shortly before adjournment of Council Tuesday night, Councilman Schuler told the city solons that many conductors strongly demand citizens pay cash fare at times when the conductor's ticket supply has been exhausted.

"This," he said, "is unfair and I move that it be investigated."

Council concurred in the motion, unanimously.

TIGHT SUNDAY LID TO BE SOUGHT

Closing Bills to Be Offered in Many Legislatures

NEW YORK — (By United Press) — Strict Sunday laws, prohibiting motion pictures, professional sports and business of any sort, will be introduced this winter in from 13 to 35 state legislatures, the Lord's Day Alliance announced Wednesday.

The bills, according to Dr. Harry L. Bowditch, secretary of the alliance, are based on patriotism, as well as religion. The design is to preserve Sunday as the Lord's day, and at the same time support the Christian business man who closes his institution over Sunday.

The support of labor will be urged on the ground that if the bills are not adopted, Sunday business will expand, the postoffice department will extend Sunday operation, and finally there will be no rest day.

"These are not blue laws," Bowditch said. "Blue laws are a humbug. But if opponents insist on calling them blue laws, we'll fight along that line. Blue is the color of loyalty and these bills will demand the support of loyal Americans."

A bill has been prepared for submission to congress to enforce strict Sunday observance in the District of Columbia.

Dr. Bowditch said there is no intention of suppressing necessary business. Sports, the movies, automobile, candy and tobacco selling—anything tending to divert attention from home or religion on Sunday, would be on the taboo list.

"The moral tone of the nation is slipping backward steadily," Bowditch said. "Something must be done to make people return to spiritual things."

ENGINEERS FIX O. E. VALUATION

More Than $600,000 is Figure—Franchise Fight Reopens

Street cars, serving the car-riding public thru Lima's thoroughfares, are worth approximately $23,000, according to an engineers' report on Ohio Electric property valuation, submitted to council in special session Tuesday night.

Council for the first time Tuesday night heard the Beman, Thomas & Co. valuation report, submitted to them in synopsis form.

The street railway company's property valuation was placed at $610,300; based on cost, less depreciation during 1915 and 1911 and $500,600, based on original cost, less general depreciation.

When the report was read to the solons it was referred to members of the franchise committee.

Following the receipt of a detailed report of the appraisal, councilmen said, a meeting of council will probably be called at an early date to resume negotiations with the company and frame up a new franchise.

Fare rates will depend upon council's action on the engineer's report. It is believed discussion of the pact will be resumed when council meets on December 7.

CRABBE LAW NOW IN FORCE

Police Ordered to Make Arrests Under Its Provisions

Mayor F. A. Burkhardt Wednesday morning instructed Police Chief O. J. Roush to begin r. king arrests under the Crabbe act.

The chief executive received a telegram from the secretary of state Tuesday evening announcing that the new prohibition law went into effect November 30.

In view of the telegram and the effectiveness of the new legislation, Mayor Burkhardt said Wednesday he had dropped all plans to draft an ordinance to conform with the Crabbe act.

"City Solicitor Garling," the mayor said, "has advised the judicial committee of council and myself that such an ordinance would only conflict with the Crabbe law and would undoubtedly be illegal."

Provisions of the Crabbe act are severe, the mayor declared.

A fine of from $100 to $1,000 for the first offense, $500 to $2,000 for the second offense and $500 to $2,000 and from one to five years in the state prison for third and subsequent violations, may be imposed by the court under the new law.

According to provisions of the act, half of the fines collected may be turned into city coffers and half into the state treasury.

Mayor Burkhardt said Tuesday the city anticipated raising between $20,000 and $25,000 from liquor fines in 1921.

His left side crushed and several ribs broken and penetrating his lungs, Victor P. Frankhart, 38, proprietor of the Erie Coal company plant, 912 St. John's-ave, survived only three hours Tuesday evening after an auto he was driving from Wapakoneta to Lima, crashed thru a fence and into a field at a sharp turn in the road about a mile north of Wapakoneta at 5:15 and turned turtle, pinning Frankhart under the car.

The injured man was taken to the office of Dr. H. B. Paulder in Wapakoneta where he remained in a semi-conscious condition until shortly after 8 p. m., when death came. Mayor E. E. COUNCIL URGES ACTION

TO MEET DEFICIENCY

With the city facing a deficiency of approximately $130,000 in operating expenses for 1921, council members Tuesday night urged action for relief from the state legislature.

The solons went on record favoring a resolution asking Lima civic organizations to send a committee to Columbus to make an appeal for financial relief.

According to council plans, it is hoped to put over a deficiency bond issue without taking the matter to a vote of the people.

It was pointed out that Lima has little more than half enough money with which to operate during the coming year.

LYCEUM FEATURE

Letter Opera Co. At Central High Auditorium Tonight

The Letter Light Opera company will be the feature of the Central High Lyceum course to be presented at the Central High Auditorium Wednesday night. This promises to be one of the biggest numbers of the course and a record crowd is expected.

They will present the famous "Costumed Classics" and "The Philosopher and The Lady." The latter is a tunefully catchy little musical farce that was first presented by this company and has made a big hit.

The Letter company is a high class musical organization. Havel Huntley, contralto; Martha Cook, soprano; Joseph Kendrick, tenor; Clifton Quale, baritone, and Harrison Burck comprise the members of the company.

Arrangements have been made that those holding season tickets will be given seats before the single admissions will be sold. The large crowd present at the last number proved that this was necessary.

The next number on the course is expected to be the biggest hit. On December 16, Strickland Gillian, the ace of American humorists, will be at the high school. He is well known and liked by Lima audiences.

The Lyceum course has been very successful this year at the high school. All expenses have been paid by the sale of season tickets and single admissions for the first number. Principal R. E. Offenhouer is very much pleased over the manner in which Lima people have taken advantage of these excellent attractions.

STEP FORWARD FOR CITY PLANNING

Lima took a step nearer its city plan project Tuesday night when council members voted for the drafting of legislation which would provide for a city planning commission.

One of the features of the commission, council was told, is that its members will work entirely without compensation.

An office force will be maintained. All clerical work will be paid for from funds supplied by the Chamber of Commerce.

The city plan idea would give Lima a foundational program for future city development, Mayor Burkhardt explained.

New Elixir, Called Aspironal, Medicated With Latest Scientific Remedies, Used and Endorsed by European and American Army Surgeons to Cut Short a Cold and Prevent Complications.

Every Druggist in U. S. Instructed to Refund Price While You Wait at Counter If Relief Does Not Come Within Two Minutes.

Delightful Taste, Immediate Relief, Quick Warm-Up.

The sensation of the year in the drug trade is Aspironal, the two-minute cold and cough reliever, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories, tested, approved and most enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the common people as ten times as quick and effective as whiskey, rock and rye, or any other cold and cough remedy they have ever tried.

All drug stores are now supplied with the wonderful new elixir, so all you have to do to get rid of that cold is to step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk half a dollar for a bottle of Aspironal and tell him to serve you two tins of Aspironal with four teaspoonfuls of water in a glass. With your watch in your hand, take the drink at one swallow and call for your money back in two minutes if you cannot feel your cold fading away like a dream within the time limit. Don't be bashful, for all druggists invite you and expect you to try it. Everybody's doing it.

When your cold or cough is relieved, take the remainder of the bottle home to your wife and babies, for Aspironal is by far the safest and most effective, the easiest to take and the most agreeable cold and cough remedy for infants and children.—Adv.

WILL ASK COURT ORDER AGAINST SALOONS

CHICAGO — Attorney General Brandegee, of Illinois, announced that he will file in the United States district court more than 70 suits Wednesday for injunctions to restrain the operation of that number of saloons in Chicago.

The attorney general said he has "secured evidence of liquor law violations against several hundred saloons and the suits started are but the beginning of many more to follow."

He added that a number of drug stores have been selling whiskey unlawfully and that many of them will be included in the list of defendants. His actions are taken under the Volstead law, he said.

Dandruff Heads Become Hairless

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when reclining; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging at the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

LEAGUE DECISION IS DEMANDED

Australia Asks Show Down on "Germany's Independence"

UP FOR ACTION TOMORROW

Vote on Berlin's Mandate Note
Is Scheduled

GENEVA — (By United Press.) — Germany has forced her way into the league of nations discussions. The whole German situation will be caused Thursday when her protest against the distribution of her colonies under mandate is to be discussed. The assembly put the question on the Thursday calendar, when E. D. Millen, Australian, demanded a decision.

Millen, with the assistance of President Hyams, carried the fight thru Viviani of France, Tittoni, of Italy and Balfour of England, usually at the forefront of the discussion bearing on the Germans took no part in the debate.

SHOW DOWN CALLED

In an interview Wednesday, Millen declared:

"It was necessary to call a show down on Germany's impudence."

"Berlin was inspired by two motives in sending that impudent note, threatening that she would no longer consider herself bound by the colonies' clause of the treaty."

"She hoped to gain a disruption of the league and disagreement among league members. She hoped to obtain postponement of distribution of mandates, until she becomes a member of the league, qualifies as a mandatory power herself and thus again obtains control of her former colonies."

RIGHTS GONE FOREVER

"Australia will insist on a distribution of mandates as previously agreed upon. We are opposed to giving Germany the slightest consideration."

"It is none of Berlin's business how the mandates are handed. Her rights to the territories were sacrificed forever. Whether the supreme council or the league is entitled to dispose of them, is a purely technical matter as between the allies and the league."

Millen declared he intended to demand Wednesday that Germany's tactics "be exposed." He expects full support from France and Belgium.

The assembly practically decided Tuesday to await the new administration in the United States before attempting amendments to the covenant. A standing committee will consider proposed changes submitted before the next session.

I never have a sign of indigestion, no matter what I eat and I am free from constipation and headaches. The rheumatism was the most stubborn of all my troubles but eight bottles of Tanlac have done the work and I never feel even so much as a trace of it now. I have even picked up in weight. In fact Tanlac has simply built me up all round."

Tanlac is sold in Lima at Hunter's Drug Stores and the leading druggists in every town.—Adv.

BY MARGARET SIMPSON

One of the leading men in letters in America today is Percy MacKaye, a descendant of one of the old Pilgrim families and imbued with a love of America and its traditions and most hopeful for the future. Tuesday evening at the First Baptist church the College Women's club presented this eminent man to an audience made up of readers of the best in literature. Their president, Miss Helen Newman introduced the speaker.

Mr. MacKaye is a tall, distinguished scholarly looking man, his keen gray eyes being filled with intense earnestness. He is absolutely free from mannerisms, speaking with a quiet directness, that holds the attention of his hearers.

His first number was one of his earliest poems, "School," depicting the old farmer, who does not comprehend why his son is determined to attend school. "They learn to live who learn to contemplate," was one strong line in it. "The Return of Peary from the Pole" was thrilling and "Ellen Terry Returns to America" could not help being enjoyed by Shakespearean students for it pictures her portrayal of her heroine, "Gothula at Panama" showed wonderful descriptive powers. Of an entirely different type was the "Rain Reverie." A merry number was that.

Tuesday evening a large number of the Protected Home Circle gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Baker, 12 W. Vine-st., to tender with a most delightful surprise, in celebration of their twentieth wedding anniversary.

Members in attendance were: Mr. and Mrs. Harry Glass, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sellers, Mr. and Mrs. William Montague, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Swaney, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. After a brief business session the evening's program was given by Mrs. Harry G. Fisher and Mrs. S. Craig. The topic of the program was "The Winning of Independence." Mrs. Harry Fisher's subject, "The Beginning of the Revolution" was ably developed and presented in a charming manner. "The Spirit of the Revolution," Mrs. Craig's subject, was beautifully portrayed by poems of Longfellow, Emerson, Whittier and Lowell. During the social hour refreshments were served.

MEN BOAST OF THEIR INFIDELITIES--BUT

Not So With Women. They Always Conceal Them

COMING to the lyric theater tomorrow for three days is a picture that will find an echo in everybody's heart. It is "Neglected Wives" and the title alone indicates that the story deals with a problem among the most vital today in human life.

It is the old, old story of a husband being so engrossed in business affairs that he fails to give his wife the attention which she above all else craves. And it is pertinently said that when a husband becomes indifferent to his wife he furnishes the cue for the other fellow to step into the triangle.

Many husbands who give their wives every comfort and luxury in the world fail to understand why they are unhappy. They do not realize that a woman can never be happy without expressed attention and love.

"Neglected Wives" is a great production--great for the reason that it keeps closely upon the heels of truth and real life.

Thousands of women who witness it are able to pick out here and there from the thread of the story, exact experiences of their own. Men who see it, if honest with themselves, are bound to admit that they are frequently at fault.

It is a story which engrosses your attention from start to finish. There are no dull moments. Its appeal is powerful. Its settings are superb. Anna Luther interprets the leading role and she will be remembered in her remarkable characterizations in such screen successes as "The Great Gamble," "Moral Suicide," etc. Tomorrow, Friday and Saturday. Don't miss it. Coming Sunday--William Farnum in "If I Were King."

SAVAGE KIA KIA TRIBES WEAR UNIQUE HEAD DRESS

The Kia Kia women of Dutch New Guinea are considered the most beautiful in the world by their cannibal husbands. Whereas most savage women adorn themselves with beads, lumps of coal, feathers or gorges display and in some instances human teeth, the Kia,Kia women are simple and unpretentious in their dress, especially their ear-rings, for what could be more modest than coils of rattan strung thru the ear lobes and wound round and round until the effect of a garden hose is gained?

This tribe is known as the Kia Kia Head Hunters. They are almost constantly in battle with other head hunters. The women are trained from early youth to protect themselves from enemies. Their hair is nothing less than bamboo—not grown to be sure, but wound and braided into their natural kinks until they have a regular doormat of protection against sword cuts from behind. In many ways the women are the same as Broadway beauties. They paint their faces with all the care of a musical comedy queen, but with different effect. All the paint is home-made and most of it is white. This is applied in circles, crosses and any other wild designs that may happen to appeal. The effect is ghastly and the idea seems to be to strike terror to the hearts of all who see them. Surely the Kia Kia women have a peculiar idea of beauty.

Their clothing is nothing but a few strings of beads, reeds and blades of grass. Occasionally they adorn themselves with human bones strung as the Fifth Avenue beauty would string beads.

These strange, wild, creatures are shown in "Shipwrecked Among Cannibals," which will be shown at the Riothe three days beginning tomorrow.

friend now than an enemy. Chokingly the dust rose about them, and glancing the gold of the burning sands beat back the down-pouring sun. From such a heat the landscape seemed to shrink and veiled itself with a faint and swimming haze.

By noon the flask of water in Billy's pocket was empty. By noon their mouths were parched and their skins burning. And still on their left there hung the bounding dots, like growling jackals.

Anxiously Billy looked at Arlee. This was an ordeal of a ride that tried the stuff the girl was made of. There was no princess of mystery now, crossing the moonlit sands; here was no gossamer wraith of a girl miraculously with him for a time; she was a very hot and human companion, worried and tired, shutting her dry mouth over any word of complaint, smiling placidly at him with dusty lips from the shrouding hood of her veil. She was completely and thoroughly a brick.

And Billy's heart ached for her, even while his spirit exulted in her spirit. "Beastly hot, isn't it?" he gasped, pulling his insufficient cap down over his bloodshot eyes.

Valiantly she smiled. "What's a little heat?" came joltingly back. "And rough going."

"That's a little—roughness?" There wasn't any word good enough for her. There wasn't any word good enough to describe such human courage and sweetness. Billy had credited all beauties with being spoiled. All he had known had been distinctly spoiled, even the near beauties, and the not-so-near ones, yet here was the most radiantly lovely girl he had ever seen behaving like an angel of grit.

He didn't quite know what else he expected her to do—have hysterics, perhaps, or weep, or reproach him for having taken a wrong way and elected a rash course. He had known that this girl could be a very minx when piqued. But in the graver crisis of life she proved herself a thoroughbred. She would go till she dropped and never whimper. He thought of all she must have been thru in that horrible palace, and he marvelled at the swiftness with which her spirit had reverted to birthplace again. The disaster, that might have been so stunning, so irremediable, had passed over her head like lightning that had not struck.

Even the horror of it had seemed yesterday to fade in her like the horror of an evil dream. That was what it had been to her—an evil dream. She was so young, so much of her was still a child, that the full terror had not touched her.

They had come to a road at last, a road which seemed to be leading in from the desert very gradually to the hills upon their left, and it seemed to Billy that it must be a caravan road to Girgeh, and he felt themselves upon the right track. They must put on all possible speed to make the crossing thru the hills into the Nile valley ahead of their pursuers. Once more he stirred their lagging camels into a joggling trot.

It was around the middle of the afternoon now, and it had been noon since their tongues had tasted water. Arlee felt her mouth parched and her tongue dry and curling; her skin was feverishly hot; her whole body burned and ached, and her head was giddy with the heat and hunger. But she thought how little a thing it was to be hot and hungry and tired when one was free. And she drew the silver shawl closer over her head and wrapped the silken tunic of her frock about her scorching shoulders, and clung tight to the pommel of her saddle as her beast pounded on and on in his lurching stride.

It had been some time since they had seen the dots, and now the road ahead of them, like the former path they had abandoned, was turning more and more to the left, winding in and out the low and broken foothills, and as they followed its course with increasing security, Billy began to tell himself that their fears had been unfounded and the alarming horsemen were merely following their own route south.

And then he heard a whistle. A presence of danger shot thru him. His tears returned a hundred fold. Sharply he scanned the way about them, but nothing was in sight. The whistle was not repeated; he could have imagined that he dreamed it. An utter stillness possessed the wilderness.

And then around the corner of a jutting rock ahead of them a horseman trotted, a big black man on a gray horse, and reined in, waiting facing them. Arlee gave a choking cry.

"The eunuch!" she gasped out. Behind them Billy flung a lightning glance, and over the heads of the dunes two more riders appeared, converging down upon them from the rear. Three in sight—how many more behind the rocks?

Desperately Billy gripped his bridle rope, and with a wrenching pull turned his camel sharply to the left, snatching at Arlee's bridle rope as the beasts bumped against each other in their surprise.

"Quick—this way," Billy commanded, and with the left hand clutching the girl's rope, with the right he wielded the stick furiously. Out over the sand both camels plunged, goaded into wild speed by such violent measures, and a cheated veil broke from the horsemen and the outeries of pursuit.

While rage at such unreason lasted the camels went like mad, but such speed could not be for long. They had been ridden for two days and they were nearly spent. The horsemen behind had drawn together and hung on their trail like three hounds, riding cautiously in the rear, but easily keeping the distance. It occurred to Billy that these pursuers could have changed horses on the way, and must inevitably tire them out. And then?

On and on he beat his poor beasts, racing toward the hills that, just ahead of them, rose sharply from the broken ground, seeking among them some fortress of rocks for a defiant stand. A tug at the bridle rope nearly jerked it from his hand. Arlee's camel had stumbled; the poor thing was lurching wearily.

"He can't go—any more," the girl cried out pitifully. "He's he's sobbing. Don't beat him—I won't have him beaten."

"We must get there," he called back, waving at the cliff-like rocks. "Then go—on foot. I could—run faster."

"No, you couldn't," he shouted fiercely back.

She stared. "Don't you hit him again!"

The maddening absurdity of the quarrel in the face of hostile Africa filled Billy with the futile fury of exasperation. He ground his teeth, glowering at her, and wound her halter rope round his smarting hand. At his hope was concentrated upon the necessity of winning to that rocky shelter before their pursuers overtook them. To him the camels were nothing in the face of such necessity.

They were going slower and slower; his blows had no avail now on either beast. They plodded on. He turned suddenly in his saddle and saw the three riders spreading fan-shape around them, the one in the center nearest. He whipped out his gun and fired at the horse.

His own motion made the ball fly wild, but the horseman drew up instantly, and the other edged discreetly away. And in the ensuing moments the two fugitives gained the base of those cliff-like hills and perceived the dark oblong of a cave mouth.

Down from their exhausted camels they flung themselves, and hand in hand raced to the entrance of the cave. Coolness and blackness received them. Their eyes discovered nothing of the tunnel-like interior.

Putting Arlee some distance within, Billy went to the mouth and stood, his gun in his hand, peering watchfully out. He saw the horsemen draw together for a parley, then one remained on guard while the others circled on separate ways beyond his range of sight. His fear was that one of them might steal alongside the cave and leap unexpectedly into its very mouth upon him, so with taut nerves he crouched expectant.

In less than an hour after an animal is dispatched in a Swift & Company packing plant, it is hanging up as meat in a room brought, by refrigerating machinery to a temperature just above freezing.

From that time until it is in your own ice box—within two to three weeks—it is kept at the same temperature; first in the coolers at our packing plants; next on our refrigerator cars, more than 6,000 of which are constantly moving to market with their perishable cargoes; then in our refrigerator rooms at our branch selling houses; then in your dealer's ice box, and last in your own.

Only for the few minutes while it is being put into the refrigerator cars at our packing plants, or taken out of them at our branch houses, or whisked to your retailer in our trucks, is it exposed to any change of temperature.

Without a skilled use of this system of cooling, made possible by modern science, you could not get fresh meat, prepared under most sanitary conditions, except at greater expense—unless you happened to live so near live stock raising centers that your needs could be supplied from live stock raised near-by.

If the foregoing raises any question in the mind of the reader, we will endeavor to answer it, upon request.

Use KEYKO

Save Money

KEYKO is not expensive. Yet it is one of the luxuries of life.

The source of the pure vegetable products which go into the making of KEYKO are vast and seemingly inexhaustible.

There is no likelihood of any such a steady advance in price as has occurred in the case of butter—an advance which reflects a diminishment of raw material supplies.

You do not need to conserve KEYKO. It is low in cost and there is every indication that there will always be plenty.

The saving is considerable in the home where KEYKO is used. In the kitchen, in the dining room, every day marks the actual saving of money.

And this is accomplished without the sacrifice of anything you would gain by paying more for something else.

Some folks have told us that they would eat KEYKO if it cost more than butter.

Lima Movie Houses Have Great Offerings for Thursday

FINE HOLIDAY PROGRAMS

Galaxy of Stars to be Seen in Latest Cinema Plays

(By Esther Wagner.)
TOMORROW, Thanksgiving Day, will be fittingly celebrated at all photoplay houses, where managers have made special efforts to secure for patrons the most popular stars in their latest releases. As a result, a splendid program of cinema attractions has been announced for the holiday.

Such bright stars in the motion picture firmament as Betty Blythe, Alice Joyce, Anne Luther, Claire Whitney, Lon Chaney, and several others are scheduled to appear here. Two all-star features are on the list, those to be presented at the Majestic and Rialto theatres. At the Majestic, "Sherry" is the feature film, while "Shipwrecked Among Cannibals," a real thriller, is to be shown at the Rialto.

"Neglected Wives" is the interesting title of the production to be shown at the Lyric theatre on Thursday. Anne Luther, its bright and beautiful star, needs no introduction; Claire Whitney who has a most prominent part is also well known to fans and she gives a remarkably fine performance in this particular role. The story is very domestic, but there are many interesting scenes, such as the Parisian cabaret, in which two noted dancers give an exhibition "Apache Dance." You won't go wrong in choosing this little drama for your Thanksgiving entertainment.

The Orpheum has a splendid array of talent for the holiday and the remainder of the week, the headliners to be "The Twentieth Century Four" queens of harmony. There will also be a delightful little comedy sketch "Pinched" and four other high class acts.

Alice Joyce who enjoys the reputation of being the most popular actress in screenland today, comes to the Sigma theatre on Thursday in "The Vice of Fools," a love story, naturally, with four unusual angles. Miss Joyce is cast as Marion Rogers, engaged to one Cameron West who loves her in a brotherly sort of fashion, but who is infatuated with a frivolous little thing, Diana Spaulding. And the man with whom Diana is in love really loves the demure Miss Rogers. The tangle that results from this situation is worked out as only Vitaphone can do it, and the picture as a whole is splendid.

There's entertainment galore in store for movie fans, at all theatres, and no matter which theatre you choose, you're sure to go home with the thought that you've seen a splendid picture.

"NEGLECTED WIVES"
The great dramatic photoplay production "Neglected Wives" which will be featured on Thanksgiving day at the Lyric theatre, is a screen version of the popular play "Why Women Sin," whose successful run on some of the largest English speaking stages extended over a period of several years. Miss Anne Luther, well known screen favorite, is starred and supported by Claire Whitney and Charles Gerart.

The story is about Dorothy Pemberton, a womanly woman, who feels too keenly her husband's neglect. While her husband is so absorbed in his work, he cannot see why, with so much luxury and comfort at hand his wife is not happy. Into her barren life comes a "sympathetic" friend and it becomes so easy to drift along that she readily falls a victim to the plot which ultimately ruins her husband's political career. Would you blame the wife for this? Or is it the fault of the husband who could have prevented it had he given more time to his wife?

The climax is as surprising as it is natural and the picture is one that you will never forget. There are many gorgeous scenes and an exhibition "Apache Dance" by two well known artists. The direction and costuming are excellent.

will render a special program of music during the showing of the pictures, completing a holiday program that is, indeed, hard to beat.

"SHIPWRECKED AMONG CANNIBALS"
One of the most astounding pictures ever attempted is the feature "Shipwrecked Among Cannibals" which opens at the Rialto on Thursday.

The scenes are laid in New Guinea, among a tribe of man-eaters and savages that is almost extinct. The picture was taken at a great risk of life, and shows the natives in their natural habits and practices. This picture is about as thrilling as one could wish to see.

"THE ORPHEUM"
A complete change of program takes place at the Orpheum theatre on Thanksgiving Day, at the matinee.

A splendid program has been announced by Manager Shaw, which will headline four young ladies in quartet numbers. They are billed as "The Harmony Four" and give an exceptional performance.

A little comedy skit entitled "Pinched" will add much to the merits of the bill. A captivating Romany Belle, Gypsy Corrine, will be sure to please you with her songs and dances. The Livingstone Trio, performers on triple bars, are unique.

very good and provide many thrills. Ellinger and Holmboe have a decidedly original bit of amusement that everyone should like, and Harry Meehan carries with him, all the time, a package of smiles and some hearty laughs.

"SHERRY"
Pathe has made of "Sherry" a picture of the highest quality. The fact that it is unusual and has a plot different from the usual run of pictures is a point in its favor, and because it has an all-star cast to handle the different roles, it is sure to please everyone. The management of the Majestic theatre has secured this production for Thanksgiving Day only.

NEWS NOTES FROM MOVIELAND

ESTELLE TAYLOR, who has been very much in the lime-light recently because of her rise to fame in "While New York Sleeps," a late Fox release, has just returned to New York from a few weeks' vacation, and is at present preparing her wardrobe for her third Fox picture, which is slated to start in a few days. The title of her new picture has not yet been decided upon.

Incidentally Miss Taylor is responsible for a new fad. Some stars may have their walking canes and some other pet hobbies, but Miss Taylor has originated the wearing of a gold mirror at the end of a thin chain. It has proven very convenient, too, and ornamental as well.

Miss Taylor is another of our young and unknown actresses who are sure to shine as stars ere long.

WILD ANIMALS PLAY PROMINENT PART IN SCREEN THRILLER

"NOMADS OF THE NORTH"

STARTS AT REGENT AND SIGMA THEATRES TODAY

One of Curwood's Tales of "God's Country," at Regent

OFFERING FOR THANKSGIVING

"Vice of Fools" is Thursday Play at the Sigma

BY ESTHER WAGNER
MONTANA lions, bears, wolves, wildcats—all the wild animals of the forests have important parts in the great production, "Nomads of the North" by James Oliver Curwood, which opens a four day engagement today at the Regent theatre.

Mr. Curwood's tales of "God's Country" have made some of the very best pictures ever screened and this one, "Nomads of the North," is no exception. In fact, it has been declared to be Mr. Curwood's greatest work.

While the theme of the story concerns Nannette Rowland and her lover, Raul Chalonar, the really interesting part of the story is about Neewa, the bear cub and little Brinsone, the pup. As cubs, they were inseparable, as full grown animals they are the best pals in the world, and in the crisis of the two lovers' lives the two animals save the couple, with their remarkable power of dumb instinct. No animals, either wild or tame, have ever put on the screen such a thrilling and intelligent performance as Neewa and Brinsone.

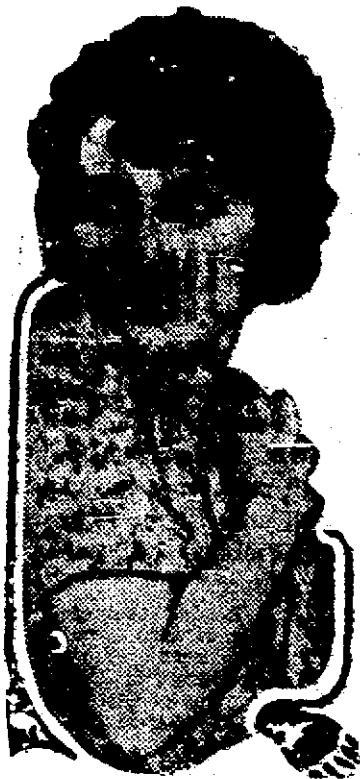

Betty Blythe is cast as Nannette Rowland and does splendid work; Lon Chaney, whom we remember for his marvelous work in "The Penalty," which appeared at the Regent some time ago, plays the leading masculine role. Lewis Stone and Spottiswood Aiken have the other important roles.

A raging forest fire is one of the thrilling scenes in "Nomads of the North," and is one of the most realistic fire-scenes ever attempted.

"Nomads of the North" is one of the greatest pictures that has ever graced a Lima screen.

"THE VICE OF FOOLS"

Here is the story of "The Vice of Fools," at the Sigma theatre on Thursday. Cameron West was very fond of Marion Rogers and engaged to be married to her, but his love did not amount to a grand passion. It had grown too slowly, perhaps, for thru their later childhood they had loved each other as brother and sister. Their parents, widow and widower, had married while they were young.

Alice Joyce is the leading role in the Vitagraph special "The Vice of Fools" at the Sigma.

It was not surprising that Cameron became madly infatuated with Diana Paydine, a charming little person, almost at the moment of their meeting. Diana liked to have men make love to her and encouraged him, tho she really cared for Grayville Wingate, a man with a great fondness for all women, but a strong preference for Marion Rogers. There develops from this four-cornered love affair a most interesting tale, one that gives Miss Joyce an excellent opportunity to display her talent and charm.

Harry Morey, former Vitagraph star, is to appear in a Ralph Ince production. Kathryn Williams is coming on from California to take a role in the same picture.

William Shakespeare Hart is the author of the next story in which Bill Hart will appear.

ANNUAL HIGH SCHOOL GIRDIRON CLASH THANKSGIVING

BOTH TEAMS WILL HAVE TO FIGHT HARDEST BATTLE OF SEASON TO ENABLE THEM TO WIN INTER-SCHOOL FRAY—STARTS AT 10:30 O'CLOCK

SOUTH IS READY TO TACKLE CENTRAL HI THURSDAY

ON the eve of the annual football game between South and Central Hi elevens, both teams are in poor condition and the result of the contest cannot be determined by mere dope compiled of past season results.

South Hi's squad, which has been coached by Judge Emmett Jackson since the start of the season, is composed of men who are playing their first year of high school football. The Judge had done remarkably well in developing such a team as he has in so short a time and the training he has given his boys will be proven in the game tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock.

Ireland and Shaw, the two mainstays of the South squad, will more than likely be kept from the game. Ireland suffered a broken nose in the Bowling Green game last Saturday and Shaw is said to have been having difficulty in his studies, which conflicts with the policy of the school to allow students to take an active part in athletic events.

QUILLEN TO PLAY
Quillen, the third high flyer of the South eleven, is prepared for the hardest fight of his career. He knows well what kind of call he will have to play and Judge Jackson is vesting much confidence in this player. Besides using his head in playing the ball, Quillen is speedy and can use his toe to good advantage.

Pash, playing center, is a new man at the pivot and his playing is questionable. In the game last Saturday his style of handling the ball was not at all commendable, but in the Central game Coach Jackson believes he will be able to exhibit a better brand of football.

Dille, Bates and Fritz, all good heavy linemen of the Central eleven, are not expected to take a part in the Thanksgiving fray. Dille was injured two weeks ago in an auto accident and is said to be in such condition that he has been unable to practice since the mishap.

BLANK LEADS CENTRAL
Capt. Blank, considered one of the best players on Central, will be in the game Thursday. He is fast, speedy and is made of the kind of stuff for a football player. Young, Mitchell and Taylor rank close to each other in their caliber of play. "Friendly enemies" has been applied to the two teams during the season and it is the expectation of coaches and others that this spirit will be in evidence throughout the game.

Rooters for both schools will be out in full force. Tickets have been on sale since Monday and are selling rapidly. Fans know it will be a lively game and anticipate the hardest fought gridiron battle that has been fought in Lima in past years.

METHODISTS DEFEATED

Despite the fact that they played fast and a good game of basketball, the Grace M. E. quintet slipped Saturday night at the South Hi gymnasium and allowed the strong Veteran Troop 1 Boy Scout five to register 36 points against their 14.

The "vets" showed splendid team work and held the Methodists scoreless the first half.

Both teams played clean ball. A good crowd witnessed the game.

BLUFFTON TO PLAY LOCAL ELEVEN

Thanksgiving afternoon the Lima Herald's eleven battled with Bluffton at the Murphy-St. ball park. The visiting team has made a good record for itself the past season and has the Postoria eleven among the team; it has defeated.

Against seven points scored by opponents, the Signals have piled up 200. Big, lucky players compared their team and all are looking for a tough tussle tomorrow.

The game will be called at 2:30.

WHAT COACHES SAY

COACH JUDGE JACKSON
"South is out to win and I have not a boy on my team that will not fight from the beginning to the end. We want Central to forget that we had hard luck the season and to play their best. Win or lose we will have no ill will and any one that sees the game will know that we did our best." Coach Judge Jackson says.

"We have been up against odds all season and the boys from the south have learned how to fight, fight hard and fight long. There is no quitter on our team or second team. The boys realize that they were new at the game and they have been working accordingly all season and they know that a win over Central will be the reward that they have been working for."

"I have all the confidence in the world in my boys and I know what they are thinking about and what they will do against Central. They are thinking, acting, and feeling the three 'A's', Aim, Vigor and Victory."

COACHES OBJECT TO PROPOSAL

NEW YORK—Suggestion recently advanced by Percy D. Haughton, former Harvard football coach, that a forward pass blocked behind the line of scrimmage be subject to recovery by the defending team, has not met with favor by many coaches.

William H. (Big Bill) Edwards, former Princeton captain, said "if they keep on changing the rules, they will kill the game."

Chick Meehan, Syracuse coach, declared that the suggestion, if adopted, would tend to make the game less open because passes would be more dangerous and the light college elevens would be handicapped.

Buck O'Neil, Columbia coach, said such a grounded pass would cause a lively scramble in which players would be more liable to injury.

Bob Holwell, head coach of the navy, said he had not given the idea

NEW RULES FOR BASKET BALL

NEW YORK—Two important changes in the basketball rules have been announced by the rules committee of the inter-collegiate basketball league.

One allows a player who has been taken from the game, to return excepting one who has been disqualified for four personal fouls. The other requires that a held ball under a basket be taken 15 feet and tossed up.

HOW PLAYERS COMPARE

Here's how South and Central Hi football players compare on the eve of their annual clash Thanksgiving morning on College field:

CLEVER SLOGAN BY 'MIDDIES'
ANNAPOLIS, Md.—"Come eleven!" is the latest slogan at the Naval Academy but its popularity does not mean that the 2,000 or more Middles have become addicted to "rolling the bones."

The figures are regarded as a "hunch" for the success of navy over army in Saturday's football game because the series of games now stands 11 victories for army, 10 for navy and another navy victory will place the teams on an even basis.

Combined with "come eleven" the students also are shouting "navy victory" because the two words contain eleven letters.

Another slogan is "eleventh victory for eleven men."

GAMES TONIGHT CALLED OFF

There will be no Industrial League basketball games tonight at the Y. M. C. A., as had been scheduled. Manager S. C. Biddle announced Wednesday morning.

Many of the players are leaving to spend Thanksgiving out of the city.

LIMA TO BE MECCA OF BASKET BALL QUINTETS SOON

With the football season winding up in Lima this week, basketball will swing into line and within the next few weeks many local cage teams will be in the field.

Besides Central and South Hi squads, the American Legion team will rank high in independent circles. Besides the Legion Lima will probably be represented by several more smaller teams which undoubtedly will put in a strong bid for northwestern Ohio semi-pro honors.

The Lima Leads, composed of players ranging in ages from 13 to 25, are probably next to the Legion team. In past years they have played under the name of the Veteran Scouts and have been in the field for the past five years.

STRONG OUTSIDERS
Grace M. E. church has a strong team which is rapidly developing in to a fast squad. They have the advantage of having a fine gymnasium of their own in which to practice. It is in the church basement at Kibby and Elizabeth streets.

Some strong high school teams in cities near Lima are said to be of such a calibre that much will be heard from them the coming season. One of these teams is the strong Spencerville quintet, which plays its opening home game Thanksgiving night in the armory at Spencerville with St. John's team of Delphos. Hundreds of tickets have been sold and a record breaking crowd will probably be on hand to see their home team make their initial bow to the public. Bill Barlow, sporting editor of The Lima News, will referee this game.

ST. MARYS A COME
Another strong outside team is the St. Marys high school squad. They will start their season in the next few weeks and have some of the best teams in this section of the state carded.

Adv. Van Wert, Fostoria and Bluffton, also have exceptionally good teams in the making. Spencerville fans are already boasting the tournament to be held there January 28. Stanley B. Post, captain, is as good a manager as he is a player and is putting on the game in good fashion.

The Industrial and Church basketball leagues here are swinging into full motion, with the Garford quintet the pick of industrial followers.

QUIET THANKSDAY FOR LIMA

Business Will be Generally Suspended on the Morrow

TO REST AND BE THANKFUL

Special Church Services and Other Plans for the Day

Lima today was making every preparation to be thankful Thursday. Along with the rest of the world, people here were planning to observe a regular old fashioned Thanksgiving day.

It will be quiet, indications show. There will be a cessation of operations in practically all of the city's industrial plants.

Mercantile and other business establishments in the downtown districts will be closed all day. A few grocery stores and meat markets in various sections will remain open until noon, but they will be few and far between.

The wheels of justice will come to a standstill when the county courthouse looks its doors for the day. The city hall will also close.

There will be special Thanksgiving Day services at Market-st. Presbyterian church and Grace M. E. church.

Public schools dismissed classes Wednesday afternoon for the remainder of the week. In many of the class rooms closing exercises included Thanksgiving features.

The postoffice will be closed all day save between the hours of 9 a. m. and 10 a. m. when stamp, money order, general delivery and registry windows will be open for the accommodation of the public. Mail collections will be made at 6 a. m. and 6 p. m.

Postmaster J. E. Sullivan said Wednesday there would be no rural mail deliveries on Thursday.

City banks will close their doors to observe the legal holiday. Special programs have been arranged for vaudeville and motion picture houses.

Special menus will be served in practically every state and county institution in Allen-co. Prisoners, inmates and patients in jails, sanitariums and hospitals will be given Turkey Day treats.

Many Limaites will spend the day visiting with relatives and friends in the country, while still others will remain at home and entertain out of town guests.

The Thanksgiving day sport calendar will be featured in the morning with the annual South-Central high school grid classic.

Thanksgiving day is made the annual occasion of a trip affixed by nimble rods for a rabbit hunt, but generally, Lima people will remain at home Thursday—to rest and be thankful.

DODGE BROTHERS APPOINT DEALER

The D. D. Jones Co. Will Sell Popular Detroit Car In This Territory

Announcement is made by Dodge Brothers, Detroit, of the appointment of the D. D. Jones Co. as their dealer in this city. This company will occupy the building at 323-325 N. Elizabeth-st. with complete salesroom and service station.

The remarkable popularity of Dodge Brothers Motor Vehicles has caused automobile men all over the country to clamor for sales privileges but Dodge Brothers policy of quality in selling methods, as well as quality in the car, requires a painstaking investigation in every instance before a selection is made. In the D. D. Jones Co. Dodge Brothers have a dealer on whom they believe they may rely for both progressiveness and fair business methods.

The prompt manner in which Dodge Brothers assumed one of the foremost positions in the automobile industry is regarded as a striking testimonial to the high regard in which their name was held by the public even before they marketed a motor car bearing their name. Prior to that time Dodge Brothers had built the vital parts for more than a half million other cars, establishing a reputation for thoroughness and mechanical skill.

This reputation has been more than upheld. It is said that Dodge Brothers in explanation of their unusual success, that they spare no money or effort in building a car to suit their particular ideas of thoroughness in manufacture. What their ideas on this subject mean to the purchaser of their product may be imagined from the fact that they have a staff of more than 700 inspectors who do nothing but check up on workmanship in the various processes of manufacture. In addition there are several large departments devoted entirely to similar work, such as the physical and chemical laboratories where raw and finished materials are subjected to tests so thorough as to leave no doubt of the quality.

It is significant that the first Dodge Brothers Motor Car ever built was made up exactly as a car is made in the regular line of production. Ordinarily the "experimental" job as the first car is known is built of castings involved in preparing dies for forgings. Dodge Brothers, however, decided that their experimental car should be like the car they expected to build in every detail, so that neither they nor the public might be "fooled." So they spent almost a year in making these dies and preparing otherwise for a completely manufactured car. As a result, when the car was built they knew what they had and what they and the public might expect of their product.

Public approval of their principles of thoroughness is seen in the rapid expansion of Dodge Brothers Works made necessary by public demand. In December, 1914, it was a plant of less than 20 acres. Today Dodge Brothers Works cover over 100 acres of floor space and there is enough construction work under way to bring the total well above 120 acres.—Adv.

GIRLS' WELFARE LEAGUE TO GIVE TINY TOTS TREAT

The Central H. Girls' Welfare League will give a Thanksgiving dinner this year to some children who otherwise would not have such a treat. They are counting on having twenty tiny tots at their dinner Thursday evening.

This League is by many considered to be the most important organization in the High School. Every Thanksgiving and Christmas they help the poorer families of the city. A penny carried on St. Patrick's Day is an annual event to provide funds for their work.

Any funds, clothing, etc., that families in the city should contribute to the poor people will gladly be taken care of by members of the League, who will find the proper place for them. Dorothy Bernstein is the president of the League.

SOVIETS IN U. S. PLANNED

Russian Bolshevik Agents Coming to Organize Americans

WASHINGTON — (By Associated Press) — Russian Soviet authorities estimate that the unemployed in this country will number 5,000,000 by the end of the year and two representatives of the Third International plan to arrive in the United States in December, it was said, and purpose to form committees of the unemployed in co-operation with the communist party, establishing Soviets of each trade.

Their mission, the advisors stated is to unite the revolutionary movement in America into one fighting body to bring about an armed revolution. Coming of the Soviet representatives, the advisors declared, is in accordance with resolutions adopted at the last convention of the Third International in Moscow which provided for international representatives in every country of Europe and America.

While Government officials discounted the internationalists' estimate of the unemployment in this country, every precaution is being taken to keep the Soviet organizers from entering the United States.

Several weeks ago a campaign for a school song was conducted by the Central H. School Mirror. This campaign came to a close recently and a song composed by Coach Deitrick was selected by the committee as the best offered. Several other good songs were handed in and will be used by the school.

The new Central school song is as follows:

Tune—Bring the Wagon Home.

Oh Central H. with spirit grand,
We think of other days
Our thoughts like milestones backward turn,
When on this school we gaze;
Our grip grows strong; bold rings our song,
When these loud cheers we raise
Here's a victory; and deeds of fame.

28 LIVESTOCK & PRODUCE
544 Eggs Per Month
From 30 Hens In January and February

A. S. Pujol, New Orleans, La., sent us the above report: says that he is using Fratts' Poultry Regulator daily, that it has worked wonders with his hens; that before using "Fratts" the number of eggs laid was very discouraging; and that 3 settings of 12 eggs brought 29 strong, healthy chicks, all of them developing fine birds.

Fratts' Poultry Regulator, mixed with a good egg making ration, not only breaks hens lay, but the eggs wanted for hatching will produce sturdy chicks that will develop into A-1 pullets and cockerels. Test "Fratts" with this an-dard—Total Money Back. If YOU ARE NOT SATISFIED! Fratts' Poultry Preparations will make your poultry pay!—ADV.

ENRICO CARUSO BUYS

DIAMONDS IN DENVER

DENVER—One more step toward replenishing the valuable collection of jewelry stolen from his Long Island home was taken by Enrico Caruso, Italian tenor, when he scentered into a Denver jewelry store and purchased gems to the reputed value of $5,000.

Among the stones bought by Caruso, according to the local dealer, was a diamond from an original set owned by the Czar Nicholas of Russia. The Denver jeweler announced that the diamond from the Czar's collection came into his possession thru purchase from a Dallas, Texas, merchant.

Caruso, it was said, displayed keen knowledge of the value of diamonds.

"But why are they all red-headed?"
"Just an idea of our efficiency exposed. He says they reduce the light bill 50 per cent."

"Mumme, why does Uncle John eat off his knife?" queried the young hopeful.
"Hush, dear!" replied mother in an agonized whisper. "Uncle John is rich enough to eat off the coal shovel if he prefers it."—Edinburgh Scotsman

"Why did Jinks rush out of the office so excitedly?"
"His wife had just telephoned."
"Some accident at home?"
"Well, something like that. She said their year-old baby was safe and Jinks went to see what it looked like that way."—Judge

"Yes," proudly announced the captain, who is manager of the new $10,000,000 hotel. "All our employees are former soldiers. In every one of them. The desk clerk is an old top kicker. The floor clerk has all been non-coms in charge of quarters. The chef was a mess sergeant, the waiters were all penitent K. P.'s, the house doctor was a base hospital surgeon, the house defective was an intelligence policeman, the bellhops were dough-boys."

"And have you any former M.
P.s?" he was asked.
"Yes," he replied. "When there's a good stiff wind blowing we use them as outside window washers on the eighteenth floor."

BAD BREATH
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work.
People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the ill after effects.

All the benefits of nasy, solemnizing, cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without griping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after sixteen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.
Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 15c and 30c.

Don't use cosmetics to hide skin trouble
Resinol
aids poor complexions

If your complexion is rough, red, or pimply, don't try to cover up the defects with cosmetics which do not conceal, but usually attract attention to the reason for their use. Begin today to clear your skin with Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap.

This treatment not only cleanses the skin and enables it to breathe, but usually removes blotches, redness and roughness.

Ask your dealer for Resinol Soap and Ointment.

"I Feel as Tho' I Could Not Drag Thru the Day's Work" is the complaint of many a woman in the household, office or factory. After suffering pain, feeling nervous, dizzy, weak and dragged-down by weaknesses of her sex—with eyes sunk, black circles and pale cheeks—such a woman is quickly restored to health by the Favorite Prescription of Dr. Pierce. Changed, too, in looks, for after taking Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription the skin becomes clear, the eyes brighter, the cheeks plump. It is purely vegetable and contains no alcohol.

Druggists sell it in tablets or liquid, or send Dr. Pierce, at Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N.Y., 10 cts. for trial package. After taking this well-known remedy you will feel strong and healthy. Such a change in feelings, too—there's sparkle in the eyes, a rose tint in the cheeks, for one has rich, red blood.
There's elasticity in every movement and a spring in the step.
Love comes to every woman who has bounding health—when she is pallid, dull-eyed, languid, she has no magnetism, nor does she appeal to any man.
